A PLEASANT PARTY
FOR MISS HUNTER'S GUESTS.

A pleasant party was given Thursday night by Miss Marguerite Hunter, 201 West Gregory, to her two aunts and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Becht and Mrs. Fletcher of Scranton, Miss.

The rooms were decorated with flowers and many enjoyable games were played, refreshments were daintily served, and the guests, having a delightful time did not depart till a late hour. Those besides the hostesses and guests of honor, were:

Mrs. Morton, Mrs. V. Hunter, Mrs. Valenzano, Miss Melle and Miss Mite Morton, Miss Rena and Miss Silva Saltra, Miss Nora and Miss Hattie Fleming, Miss Hattie Brartrout, Miss Dora Mace, Miss Lillian Harris, Miss Hannah Chestnut, Miss B. Thompson, Miss Theresa and Miss Regina Valenzano, Miss Agnes Morton, Miss Clara Hunter.

MISS MARY IDA'S
EIGHTH BIRTHDAY.

The handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Saunders on Palafox street, North Hill, on Wednesday evening, May 31, from 4 to 6 o'clock, rang with the musical voices of twenty-four children friends of their pretty little daughter, Miss Mary Ida.

The entertainment was arranged and given by Mrs. P. W. Majette, the charming guest of Mrs. Saunders, to celebrate Miss Mary Ida's eighth birthday, and was lovely throughout, the cheerful color scheme of red and white being attractively carried out.

The handsome dining room was decorated with palms and pot plants and the chandelier over the table was festively with red roses and green leaves, and red ribbon was suspended from it to each corner of the table. In the center of the table a silver dish filled with maidenhair ferns rested on an exquisite Battenberg piece over red.

When the children marched into the dining room, seven little maids stood around a small table which held the "Birthday cake"—on which burned eight red candles.

Each child repeated a verse marking some period in Mary Ida's life, to which the little hostess responded with a toast of good wishes for all.

After the candles were blown out the cake was cut for a ring, Miss Irene Palmes being the lucky winner. Various games, refreshments of cakes and ice cream made the hours all too brief for the fortunate little people present, and each received as a souvenir of the happy occasion a tiny red and green fan.

CRAFT-MILLER
WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT

Many Journal readers, not only in this city, but throughout South Florida, especially in Tampa and on the West Coast, will be interested in the following invitations which are out this morning:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Durant Craft invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter

Mabel

Mr. Glenn Wilbur Miller on the morning of June fourth nineteen hundred and five at eleven o'clock

Palafox St. Methodist Church Pensacola, Fla.

TIMBERLAKE-MERRITT
WEDDING IN MONTEAGLE.

One of the guests at the wedding of Mr. Merritt and Miss Timberlake, writes about it to a friend in Pensacola, under date of June 1, as follows: "You will of course be interested in a wedding we attended this morning as the bridegroom, Mr. Charles Wadsworth Merritt is said to be a very prominent and highly connected young man of your city and chief guide, philosopher and friend of Rex, who presided over the carnival gayeties we so merrily witnessed there."

"The bride, Miss Martha Amanda Timberlake, is the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. S. Timberlake who managed that delightful hotel—the Hibiscus—at Palm Beach where we spent four gorgeous weeks during the season. Instead of the Ecumbia as we had planned while in St. Louis, as so many others did. At first we were all greatly provoked at his change of plans, but now—well, as Kipling or Ade, or some other funny fellow says, that's another story. Let's return to our wedding. Sufficient to say that most of us will try the Tennessee mountain air this summer just to make sure of Mrs. Timberlake's 'fair fare,' and the genial, home air they give to all their places. I suppose you know they—the Timberlakes—have the Assembly Inn at Monteagle? Well, they have."

"The drive from Assembly Inn to Fairmount was an ideal one for a bridal procession. It is through wooded groves, by ever sparkling streams spanned by rustic bridges, and on this bright June morning everything seemed at its loveliest for the lovely bride to whom we are all so deeply attached."

"Fairmount Chapel where the ceremony took place, was crowded to witness the marriage at which Rev. Dr. DuBose of the University of the South at Suwanee, officiated. The chancel was beautifully decorated in lilacs, laurel and evergreens. The bride was prettily gowned in a dainty and becoming changeable blue silk with the most becoming and fetching hat to match, as did all accessories. Her bouquet was of mountain laurel, maidenhair ferns and pinks. Her only jewel was an exquisite Sunburst, a gift from her mother."

"They left on the 2:30 p. m. train

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES.

Decoration Day was duly observed at Fort Barrancas. The large and beautiful garrison flag was displayed at half mast until noon when a salute of twenty-one guns was fired and appropriate music was rendered by the band. Mr. Monk, the contractor, did not allow his carpenters and masons to work on the buildings under construction at the post. In the afternoon the veterans of the civil war, and friends, came down to the cemetery from Pensacola. After appropriate services, the eleven hundred graves of the Southern army and the eight hundred of the Northern army were decorated with flags and flowers. Very few representative people from Pensacola were present. Even the business houses of Pensacola were not closed on this great national holiday—a true national holiday for the army and navy. The business that they are all inlanders and delighted with their first visit to salt air and water.
